1. POLICY STATEMENT

This Procedure aligns with the principles of integration – as outlined in the National Standards in mental health services – and collaborative partnerships as described in the Fifth National Mental Health and Suicide Prevention Plan 2017-2022. It respects the privacy of consumers as detailed in NSW Health Privacy Manual for Health Information \(Version 3\).

2. BACKGROUND

This Procedure has been developed as a framework to guide the development of collaborative partnerships with a range of External Clinical Care Providers (ECCP) of services to people with mental health conditions. ECCP include General Practitioners, Psychiatrists, Nurses, Allied Health staff, Counsellors and other welfare staff. They may be in private practice, or work for government or non-government agencies external to public mental health services. External Providers also include public sector non-mental health services and Private Hospitals and Clinics.

This document has been developed to outline the roles and responsibilities of the SESLHD Mental Health Service (MHS) staff and a range of ECCP in the referral, assessment and collaborative management of people with mental health conditions. The document aims to promote the delivery of high quality, integrated mental health care to consumers and their families/carers, through more effective collaboration between ECCP and public sector mental health clinicians.

3. RESPONSIBILITIES3.1 Employees will:

- Follow this Procedure in the development and maintenance of relationships with ECCPs.

3.2 Line Managers will:

- Ensure that this Procedure is circulated and implemented locally.

3.3 District Managers/Service Managers will:

- Circulate this Procedure to the managers of each MHS site/service.

3.4 Medical staff will:

- Follow this Procedure in the development and maintenance of relationships with ECCPs.

4. PROCEDURE4.1 Clinical Governance

All clinical staff working within SESLHD have clear lines of management responsibility and clinical accountability to managers and senior clinicians within their networks, according to local protocols. Conversely, while ECCPs may work collaboratively and effectively with MHS clinicians and teams, they are not clinically accountable to the MHS, and they have no reporting responsibilities to managers or senior clinicians within the MHS.

Any consumer may choose to receive mental health services from an ECCP, and this should not preclude them from concurrently receiving public sector mental health services, where this is deemed to be appropriate and/or advisable.

All consumers receiving clinical input from a team or service within the MHS must be afforded the same degree of MHS clinical oversight, according to their presentation and the level of input being provided, irrespective of whether or not they additionally receive care from an ECCP.

There is a requirement that a Consultant Psychiatrist from within the MHS oversees the management of each consumer. In the case of consumers with an existing ECCP, this may result, on occasion, in the consumer being under the care of a private psychiatrist as well as a public sector psychiatrist. The process described in this Procedure is designed to ensure that there is an effective mechanism in place to resolve any issues of concern or dispute between public and private care providers. This would also provide opportunities for a facilitated dialogue between the private psychiatrist, public psychiatrist, Private Hospital or Clinic and any other clinicians involved in the consumer's care, to facilitate the required clinical oversight by the public sector MHS.

4.2 Referral Process

All referrals from ECCP to the MHS need to be processed through the State-Wide Mental Health Telephone Access Line (SMHTAL) and once triaged, handed over to the appropriate service.

Comprehensive referral information is required from the ECCP at the time of referral, as per the Triage section of the electronic Medical Record (eMR). This may include, but is not limited to, the following:

- Specific reason for referral.
- Identifying data and contact details for the consumer and families/carers
- Diagnosis, current and past symptoms.
- Treatment history.
- Current medication.
- Identification of acute/ongoing risk issues.
- Drug and alcohol use.

The referring ECCP should be asked to provide any additional information, particularly comprehensive assessment documentation if available, to SMHTAL as soon as practicable via telephone, fax and/or e-mail.

SMHTAL decision-making should utilise all available information and clinical practice protocols – including local triage/assessment procedures, SESLHDGL/082 - Clinical Risk Assessment and Management – Mental Health and NSW Health Policy Directive PD2022_043 - Clinical care of people who may be suicidal – to determine the suitability of the referral to acute care or non-acute/ongoing care options provided by the MHS.

A clear indication as to whether the consumer is aware of the referral is also required. Triage and management planning should be collaborative and include the active input of the MHS, the ECCP, the consumer and their family/carer, and other key stakeholders, where possible. The appropriate and timely flow of clinical information should be balanced with the need to respect confidentiality.

4.3 Referrals for MHS Acute Care Services

Following referral, all consumers accepted by a MHS Acute Care Team require a documented acute management plan, including those consumers with an ECCP. Within the plan, risk factors should be identified as well as interventions to manage the identified risks. The roles and responsibilities of both the MHS and ECCP need to be clearly delineated and documented as part of the ongoing care plan. This should include issues such as adjustments to medication, ongoing risk assessments and the administration of depot medication. The development of this plan is a collaborative responsibility between MHS staff and the ECCP. MHS staff must be satisfied that the plan is appropriate and able to be implemented.

If MHS staff assess that the consumer's risk to self or others is high and immediate, a MHS staff member must put measures in place to manage that risk effectively as per clinical risk protocols. Communication with the ECCP is to occur as soon as practicable.

In cases where it is considered that the consumer of an ECCP would benefit from a mental health admission and the consumer is in agreement, the option of admission to a private facility should be considered, where appropriate.

If admission on an involuntary basis is necessary and the ECCP is a private medical practitioner, a Section 19 (request for an assessment to consider involuntary admission) should be completed by the ECCP, where it is practicable to do so. There may be occasions when the ECCP must negotiate with the MHS regarding a process by which assessment and involuntary detention may proceed. Following assessment, the decision to admit to a public mental health facility is to follow the usual process for admissions.

4.4 Referrals for Non-Acute/Continuing Care

The MHS is to determine the consumer's suitability for acute or non-acute treatment and/or continuing care coordination based on a combination of factors, including the comprehensive assessment information provided by the ECCP, and further supplementary information elicited by the MHS during the assessment.

The decision to accept the referral, and allocate a consumer to a mental health clinician for the delivery of non-acute treatment, is to be based upon several factors including assessed clinical need, level of risk and disability and the availability of appropriate clinical resources across the public and private sectors (see SESLHDBR/058 - Referral, Prioritisation and Allocation for Non-Acute Community Services \(including Priority Grid\)).

Following allocation for ongoing treatment and care, the consumer will require a management plan with clear lines of accountability for all aspects of management. This management plan should be developed collaboratively by the MHS, the ECCP, the consumer and their family/carer.

Relationships with External Clinical Care Providers – Mental Health Service

SESLHDPR/418

Processes for the effective exchange/communication of information need to be agreed as part of the management plan (taking into account relevant privacy legislation as well as PD2015_049 - NSW Health Code of Conduct), and should aim to facilitate the appropriate flow of clinical information among all care providers. MHS clinicians should ensure they communicate regularly with ECCP who they know are involved with a consumer. MHS clinicians should enquire about consumer contacts with relevant ECCP (eg. recent GP appointments) as part of their routine ongoing reviews with consumers to inform themselves of ECCP who may need to be contacted to share information.

The management plan and associated roles and responsibilities should be reviewed regularly (at least once every 13 weeks).

4.5 Discharge

At the conclusion of the episode of care (public sector inpatient or community), a discharge plan must be completed and provided to the ECCP (see PD2019_045 - Discharge Planning and Transfer of Care for Consumers of NSW Health Mental Health Services). The discharge plan must specify key risks and strategies to manage these risks, arrangements for ongoing monitoring and review, and provisions for potential re-referral to the relevant service should this be requested or required. The designated roles and responsibilities of all care providers should be delineated with respect to the above.

At the conclusion of an episode of care in a Private Hospital or Clinic all attempts should be made to identify medications prescribed and key risks, and strategies to manage these risks, either from the consumer, or from the Private Hospital or Clinic after consent for contact has been obtained from the consumer. This information should be documented in the consumer's eMR.

4.6 'Non-Referred' Consumers of External Providers

In the case of consumers of ECCPs who may present to acute health services, (e.g. Emergency Department, Acute Care Teams) without their ECCPs being aware of the presentation, or explicitly arranging a referral, MHS staff are to follow usual procedures i.e. conduct triage/assessment and develop a care plan. Communication with the ECCP must occur at the earliest opportunity by telephone and via follow up fax or letter.

Similarly, consumers of ECCPs may also present to non-acute mental health services without the knowledge of, or referral by, the ECCP. Again, MHS staff are to follow usual procedures for this type of self-referral.

5. DOCUMENTATION

All contact with ECCPs must be documented in the consumer's eMR.

6. AUDIT

Compliance with this Procedure is to be monitored via an annual review facilitated by SESLHD MHS local Clinical Governance Committees.
