Multicultural Health Grants Program 2019-2020

Healthy Communities Projects

Grants valued up to $20,000 are available for projects of 1-2 years duration (subject to 2019-2020 budget allocation). Project applications from the community sector must involve a SESLHD partner. To determine relevant partners, please contact your local Diversity Health Coordinator/Champion or the Multicultural Health Service (refer to the next page for contact details).

Eligibility

Applications are invited from staff of South Eastern Sydney Local Health District (SESLHD) or non-government agencies working in partnership with SESLHD health services or Sydney Children's Hospital, if the project covers the SESLHD demographic area.

In 2019-20, priority will be given to the projects that support one or more of the following:

- Access to care for new arrivals and vulnerable CALD populations;
- New and emerging CALD communities;
- Prevention and early intervention for health conditions that disproportionately affect CALD communities;
- Children and young people from CALD backgrounds;
- Integrated care for chronic and complex health conditions for people from CALD backgrounds; and
- Improved clinical pathways and/or models of care for people from CALD backgrounds.

However, assessment will remain merit based and projects targeting any culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) communities, including refugees, or health issues are welcome.

Purpose

The Multicultural Health Grants Program aims to encourage the development of innovative approaches to health care for CALD groups within the health system.

Funding will be available for projects which strive to build ongoing partnerships between the health services and CALD communities in order to:

- Enhance the utilisation of health facilities;
- Improve delivery of health services;
- Promote health and well-being.

This could be achieved through the:

- Developing a program that helps health services respond to the health needs of CALD groups;
- Adapting health programs for CALD communities;
- Creating sustainable programs that promote health and wellbeing amongst
- CALD groups.
