

Effective & Clinical Leadership Programs

What is it?

The Leadership program runs over a calendar year with two modules. The first module for all participants is the University of Wollongong subject 'Effective Leadership in Health'. The second module is a choice of either Effective Leadership in Practice (ELP) or Clinical Leadership Program (CLP).

The programs aim to support participants to:

- Enhance effective leadership capabilities
- Develop and apply key behaviours, skills and practices to lead cultures to deliver safe, quality, compassionate and person centred care.
- Enhance confidence in leadership of self, others and teams.

What will I learn?

This leadership program is designed to help individuals work with their own values and behaviours to become more effective at leading their team members to provide coordinated and effective care.

The program uses an academic framework to stimulate enquiry and to promote the use of evidence in all aspects of work. A workshop format is used, and there is a combination of theoretical sessions and active learning activities. Participants experience working with tools that are designed to develop leadership skills and build cultures of quality and safety.
